

Political Attitudes of the Millennial Generation in Hungary and Central and Eastern Europe

Presentation of the results of the Millennial Dialogue research programme

Date: 1 April 2016 (Friday), 10.00 – 14.00

Venue: Andrásy University, Andrásy salon, 1088 Budapest, Pollack Mihály tér 3.

Time	Program	Speakers
10.00 – 10.15	Opening statements	István Hiller Former Minister for Education and Culture, Member of FEPS Scientific Council
10.15 – 10.35	Presentation: What is the Millennial Dialogue research about?	Maria Freitas FEPS, Policy Advisor
10.35 – 11.00	Presentation: Policy Solutions' study on the Hungarian and CEE results of the Millennial Dialogue	Tamás Boros Policy Solutions, Co-director, Head of Strategy
11.00 – 11.15	Q&A session
11.15 – 11.30	Coffee break
11.30 – 12.45	Expert panel: Roots of the different values among the Millennials in Central and Eastern European Countries	Bence Ságvári Head of Research Department, Hungarian Academy of Sciences Andrea Szabo Director in Charge, Institute for Political Science, Hungarian Academy of Sciences Tibor Závecz Director at ZRI Závecz Research
12.45 – 13.45	Young leaders' panel: Young people and politics in Hungary - How young leaders see the political values of the Hungarian youth	Balázs Bárány Politician, Member of the Hungarian Socialist Party's presidium Balázs Gulyás Sociologist, Organiser of the biggest anti- government demonstration
13.45 – 14.00	Q+A session
14.00 – 14.30	Reception	